My Life?

It's full, busy, interesting and sometimes even exciting (those times I just about get run over while working Flagging and Communications at Midwest Council of Sports Car Clubs events).

Still not ANYWHERE near retiring. Public health (including a merger that is happening with our two local agencies) is waaay too interesting. (Bioterror, SARS, flu pandemic, and figuring out how to keep people from harming themselves with unfortunate lifestyle choices.)

Besides the aforementioned raceworking, I'm on the boards of two professional organizations. I'm happily involved in the lives of my kids, who know when to tell me to get off their case. Ditto the grandkids.

Every day I learn something new (or figure out that I NEED to learn something new).

So, I'm not retiring or moving or snow-birding it. See you soon.
